

Seven Scholars students qualified for the National History Day competition in College Park, Maryland after placing first or second at both the regional and state History Day competitions. Each category at the NHD competition had over 100 entries representing all 50 states and US Territories.

Individual qualifiers included Ned Pickett (7), Claire Bodnar (8), Marie Baird (8), and a performance group of seventh grade students (picture attached), Katriel Garrison, Elana Hadi, Katie Su, and Hannah Young. The group performance entitled, "Alice Paul: The Fight for the Nineteenth Amendment" qualified as an NHD Top 10 finalist.

