

MOEMS Contest #5 is cancelled tomorrow Tuesday 3/24/2020 at 4:30-5:30 at Phelps Library! We will not schedule the make-up for Tuesday 3/31/2020.

As you may know, SPS has canceled extracurricular activities, competitions, etc. until further notice. I hope to learn more about the possibility of completing our fifth contest and MOEMS season eventually. I will let you know what MOEMS decides. Patience is a virtue during trying times. I am so proud of each of your efforts in MOEMS and Contest Math this school year.

Keep working, mathletes. You may wish to go onto the Google slide show each of you started in Contest Math to Challenge Young Mathletes (Abel prize, Field medal, Millennium problems, Khan Academy, TED math, etc.). Check out Hilleil Furstenberg and Grigory Margulis, the most recent 2020 recipients of the Abel Prize. They are "Trailblazers of Probability and Dynamics" and were awarded March 17, 2020 for "pioneering the use of methods from probability and dynamics in group theory, number theory and combinatorics." Magulis is from Yale, New Haven, CT, and Furstenberg, from University of Jerusalem, Israel. Exciting times!

Be well, all. Take care.
